

Tim McCormick Bio

---

Tim grew up in Clarkston, Michigan and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in communication. He spent ten seasons in the NBA as a player. He was drafted by Cleveland with the #12 pick in the 1984 draft and was traded to Washington and then Seattle. Tim played for the Seattle Supersonics, Philadelphia 76ers, New Jersey Nets, Houston Rockets, Atlanta Hawks, and New York Knicks.

Tim has worked as a consultant for the National Basketball Players Association for the last 25 years and serves as the Senior Regional Director of Player Programs. He is also the director of the NBA Players Association's TOP 100 Basketball Camp for the elite 100 high school players in the nation and the Michigan Elite 25.

Tim provides color analysis as a broadcaster for the ESPN Network and is currently the studio analyst for the Detroit Pistons pre-game, post-game and half-time shows. He is currently in his 24th year of broadcasting. Tim has also worked extensively for NBC, the Big Ten Network, ABC Sports and Fox Sports Detroit.

In addition, he provides corporate motivational speeches, key-note addresses and business seminars throughout the country with "Never Be Average" and "Pro-Style Leadership" as his featured programs.

Tim's Contact Information

2500 Leroy Lane
West Bloomfield MI.
48324

tim@timmccormick.com
www.timmccormick.com

Phone (248) 227-5295